Left: "Of course we are not sufficiently nothing at all," words by Geert van Bruaene (1891-1964), a tender anarchist & surrealist from Brussels.

Below & opposite: Small stone & detail. A word game: "Ontmoet" means "meet," while you could translate "Ont-moet" as "undo (the fact of) having to."

Bottom & opposite: Alphabet stone with striated letters & two detail shots.
